2.2.12 In the case of making payments (installments) via ATMs, payment terminals and by using cards or bank transfer, the Borrower realizes that the transaction can be processed after a certain period of time, which may lead to breach of the Borrower's obligations under the Loan Contract (the Borrower may have overdue obligations), and assumes the risk of all negative consequences thereunder.

2.2.13 In case of any limitations over the bank accounts of the Borrower, the Bank is not responsible for non-repayment of obligations at the expense of credited funds and the delays in obligations, and the associated risks shall be borne by the Borrower.

2.2.16 The Loan Contract is considered violated by the Borrower if the Loan (or its part thereof) and/or accrued (accumulated) interest and/or other payments stipulated by the Lending conditions are not repaid (not paid-off) in time and in accordance with the terms of the Loan Contract, or there are grounds specified in clause 2.3.1 of these rules, or the Loan has not been fully repaid (returned) by the Borrower within 15 (fifteen) days after receiving the relevant notification from the Bank.

2.2.17 Interest and penalties are calculated for annuity loans equal to 365 days, and for non-annuity loans - 365 or 366 days according to the number of days in the year.

2.2.18 Payment obligations of the Borrower under the Loan Contract may be made by third parties. The Borrower hereby permits to provide the third parties making the payment with the necessary information for repayment of the Loan, and after repayment of the loan - information on the loan balance and/or information on repayments made by a third party, including information constituting banking secrecy.

2.2.19 In the event the Borrower fulfills his/her obligations to the Bank under the Loan Contract ahead of schedule, the Bank does not apply any liability measures (fine or any other measures that worsen the position of the Borrower), unless otherwise provided by the Lending conditions for the given type of loan.

2.2.20 If the paid amount does not fully cover the monetary obligations provided for in the Loan Contract, then the Borrower's obligations are repaid in the following sequence:
